

Anderson College Commencement.

Before a large and fashionable audience that filled the college auditorium last evening ten diplomas were handed to as many young ladies at the finale of the second annual continumencement of Anderson College. Gelivered the literary address and it was so simple it merganded follow: Miss Lucile Burriss, Leota George, Marie Elms and Ethel Knight with the degree of hachelor of arts; Misses Jeanette Aiken, Kate Robinson, Miriam Weeks and Mrs. R. E. Watkins, pianoforte; Miss Marie Elms, also in expression, and to little Miss Hellen charged with epigram and wit that it expression, and to little Miss Hellen Allen, the class mascot, the degree of the sweetest little miss in South Car-

Those graduated were showered with applause and surfeited with lowers and the entire program was interesting from start to finish. Invocation was made by the Rev. J. W. Speake and Miss Caro Bradham and Miss Marguerite Henry sang Neidlingers "At Paring" in a most captivating manner. Following this duet, Miss Ethel Knight read the class history and Miss Lucile Burriss delivered the class prophecy.

Col. H. H. Watkins, president of the board, created much laughter and applause with the class' last will and testament, duly signed, sealed and de-testament, duly signed, sealed and delivered. It was one of the smartest and one of the most important wills and one of the most important wills that ever was read in Anderson coun-

The honorary diploma to little Miss Helen Allen, mascot of the class, was presented with all the solemnity that the others were and the loudest, and longest continued applause of the evening was given to that little lady when she gradiously accepted same with a cordial, "thank you," that even the others had done.

The benediction was spoken by the Rev D. W. Dodge.

A chorns of young ladies from the school sang Schuman's "Gypsy Life," and did it, so charmingly that the audience clamored for an encore, but this was not given on account of the lateness of the hour.

The president, Dr. John F. Vines, then in a few well chosen, heart-felt words, presented the diplomas to the class and declared that he felt unequal to the task of trying to voice his feelings towards the graduates, and would have to be content with

Many of these specimens have been mounted since his last visit to Washington. From the Museum the Colonel probably will go to the White House to pay his respects to President Wilson. He was invited to luncheon there, but was unable to leave Oyster Bay in time to keep a luncheon engagement. The Colonel will take dinner at a dewntown hotel with officials of the geographic society. He has no engagements until his lecture which will begin at o'clock. The lecture probably will last two hours and immediately on its conclusion. Colonel Roosevelt will be driven to the progressive headquarters where a confedence with progressive leaders in congress will be held.

That Wachington, outside of political leaders in greatly interested in the Colonel's visit became apparent today when the general public had its apportunity to obtain seats for the geographic society. The demand in official tricles for seats has been very brisk.
